

Organisational chart

Zoöconomic Institute

The current diagram may suggest a logic of departments with fixed teams, but that is not how this organisation will work. There will be key responsible people for the different main tasks and partly overlapping teams working in different constellations on these different tasks.